Residential Housing
Detached Dwelling	One (1) dwelling, other than a manufactured or mobile home, that is a freestanding and structurally separated building and meets the Oklahoma City Building Code.	Single-Family Residential One (1) dwelling unit, other than a manufactured (mobile) home, that is a freestanding and structurally separated building used exclusively for residential purposes. It is located on a lot or building site that is unoccupied by any other dwelling unit or main building. A typical use is a single detached dwelling. Reason for change: To get away from defining “family”. “Dwelling ” will be defined in Definitions, This use may include modular homes that meet building code requirements but not manufactured homes built to HUD requirements. No existing or proposed use regulations.	8200.14
Accessory Dwelling	A dwelling unit that is accessory to a Principal Dwelling on the same parcel. This includes a building or part of a building that provides complete independent living facilities for one (1) or more people, including permanent provisions for living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation.	NEW See Use Regulations Sec. 59-104, as adopted..	NEW

Detached Dwelling, Manufactured	A dwelling fabricated on or after July 13, 1994, and assembled at the building site with transportation features (tongue and axles) removed and bearing a seal certifying that it is built in compliance with the Federal Manufactured Housing Construction and Safety Standards (the "HUD Code"), and that is built in compliance with all applicable HUD Code requirements including wind safety and minimum energy conservation standards.	Manufactured Home Residential Manufactured homes fabricated on or after July 13, 1994 and assembled at the building site with transportation features (tongue and axles) removed and bearing a seal certifying that it is built in compliance with the Federal Manufactured Housing Construction and Safety Standards. Each home shall comply with the wind safety provisions and the minimum energy conservation standards of the HUD Codes which became effective on July 13, 1994 and October 24, 1994, respectively, and any subsequent amendments. Manufactured (Mobile) Home Residential A manufactured, detached, transportable single-family dwelling unit which does not meet the single- and two-family structure requirements of the Building Code, but which is designed for long-term occupancy and arrives at the site where it is to be occupied as a complete dwelling unit. It contains all conveniences and facilities, including plumbing and electrical connections which can be attached to approved utility systems. To retain mobility, undercarriage and axles remain attached to the unit. A typical use is detached manufactured (mobile) home dwelling, including a Medical Hardship Manufactured (Mobile) Home that meets the use definition of Section 59-8200.11 (Manufactured (Mobile) Home Residential: Medical Hardship). Reason for change: simplifying language for a category for HUD homes vs other manufactured housing products ("modular") that meet the International Residential Code; all other homes that meet the IRC are Detached Dwelling	8200.6 Manufactured Home Residential (HUD home with axles removed) R-MH 1 Manufactured Home Subdivision District (a place for conventional and HUD homes together in a subdivision with 5,000 sf lots, to re-zone to this need 5 acres) Manufactured Housing Overlay (MH) (Within this overlay can put a single HUD home in a traditional zone; to rezone to this need 10 acres)

		See Use Regulation, Sec. 59-147
Two- Dwelling	A building that contains two attached dwelling units. Typical forms are a duplex (where the building is contained on one lot) or a twin home (where the units are separated by a lot line.)	Two-Family Residential A building designed and used expressly for residential purposes providing independent living facilities for occupancy by two (2) households. The two (2) units are placed adjacent to one another, with structural parts touching. This unit is freestanding and structurally separated from any other dwelling or building, and is located on a lot or building site that is unoccupied by any other main dwelling or building unit. A typical use is a duplex residence. Reason for change: to get away from defining “family.” The description is more neutral to how the units are separated to allow the building code to dictate metrics like structural parts touching and not introduce conflicting metrics from the building code, like “two-wall separation” Let the building code dictate. No existing or proposed use regulations.	8200.16
Three or Four-Dwelling	A freestanding building that contains three or four dwelling units. Each dwelling unit is provided with an individual entrance to the outdoors or to a common hallway with other dwelling units in any vertical or horizontal arrangement. A typical use is a triplex or fourplex residence.	Three- and Four-Family Residential Three (3) and four (4) dwelling units which are placed so some structural parts are touching one another, but remain freestanding and structurally separated from any other building or group of dwelling units. The dwelling units are located on a lot or building site that is unoccupied by any other dwelling unit or main building. A typical use is a triplex or fourplex residence.	8200.15

Townhouse	A dwelling constructed in a group of four or more attached units in which each unit extends from foundation to roof and with a yard or public way on no less than two sides. Also known as a "rowhouse."	No proposed Use Regulations, buildings bulk regulations and design will be addressed in the zone.	NEW
Cottage Court	A series of small, detached structures, each containing a single dwelling. The dwellings are arranged to define a shared courtyard, typically perpendicular to the street. The shared courtyard takes the place of a private yard.	NEW: Adding this use may help incorporate the notion of tiny homes and as a use for “more than one detached unit on a lot”; currently we don’t have a use for that and have many SPUDs to get detached dwellings on one lot. 10,00 sf is minimum area for a cottage court See Use Regulations Sec.59-123 for site standards for this housing product. Residential Support Housing
Congregate Care/Nursing Home	Residential facilities that provide residents support services and 24-hour nursing home care. These are not treatment centers for people with emotional or mental disturbances or drug or alcohol problems, or those who exhibit anti-social behavior, nor are these facilities for criminal offenders. The facilities do not contain retail activities that are open to and marketed to the general public.	Congregate Care Housing and Convalescent Homes Residential facilities that provide residents support services and twenty-four (24) hour nursing home care. These are not treatment centers for people with emotional or mental disturbances or drug or alcohol problems, or those who exhibit anti-social behavior, nor are these facilities for criminal offenders. The facilities do not contain retail activities that are open to and marketed towards the general public. Typical uses include nursing homes and hospices for the elderly or terminally-ill. Reason for change: This use excludes convalescent homes which are more like in-patient care facilities and hospice. 		No proposed Use Regulations, deleting 9350.22 which requires 10 feet between loading and parking spaces and residential uses. This was moved to landscaping buffers between commercial and residential in general.
Group Residential	The residential occupancy of a building by more than one household on a non-transient basis, and where the living units share a kitchen, laundry, and common facilities. Examples include fraternity or sorority houses, dormitories, lodging houses, cooperative housing, and monasteries.	Group Residential The residential occupancy of living units by a number of occupants, not constituting a family or otherwise related, but occupying the structure on a non-transient basis. Typical uses include occupancy of fraternity or sorority houses, dormitories, boardinghouses, lodging houses and monasteries. Reason for change: Clarifying wording and adding the form of cooperative housing. No existing or proposed Use Regulations. Building size would be covered in Building Design Development Standards.	8200.3
Group Home Facility	Public, quasi-public or private residential facilities, which because of the nature and scale of their program, are compatible in a residential setting and allow residents to participate in the community. Individual residents may occupy the facility on a permanent or temporary basis. Residents may be in need of special care, supervision or treatment, and may be handicapped, aged, disabled or undergoing rehabilitation.	Low Impact Institutional: Residential-Oriented Public, quasi-public or private residential facilities, which because of the nature and scale of their program, are compatible in a residential setting. 	Residents may be assigned to facilities by a court, but not as a result of being adjudicated criminal, delinquent or mentally ill. A group home facility has a current contract with the Oklahoma Health Care Authority (OHCA) to provide DDS Home and Community-Based Services (HCBS) for persons with an intellectual disability or related conditions. Typical uses include group homes for the mentally or physically handicapped and sober homes that may exceed the numerical limits for a household.	Reason for change: To term this use a “facility” for more than 12 people and two caregivers. The Oklahoma Admin Code 317: 40-5-152 allows up to 12 persons and two caregivers in a “Group Home” and due to the federal Fair Housing Act (42 U.S.C. § 3602) the 12 persons may be considered a “dwelling unit” and are allowed in a detached dwelling, including an accessory detached dwelling. Building and fire codes may not allow the detached dwelling to actually house 12 persons. The Group Home Facility use is for buildings that exceed 12 persons and cannot be located in a detached dwelling. See Use Regulation Sec. 59-136, similar to 59-9350.52, -.53 (Facility for Neglected Children and Drug and Alcohol Treatment), describing the conditions to be reviewed by Planning Commission for a Special Permit.
Re-Entry Facility	A facility operated by the city, the state, the federal government or a private party under contract with the city, the state or the federal government and used for rehabilitation and overnight accommodation of individuals who are (a) under the jurisdiction of a court, but not under confinement, or (b) individuals recently released from the jurisdiction of a court.
