

A map of downtown Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, illustrating a proposed transit corridor. The map shows a grid of streets including NW 7th St through SW 3rd St, N Lee Ave through S Harvey Ave, and Shartel Ave through Oklahoma City Blvd. Key landmarks such as the Alfred P. Murrah Federal Building, Oklahoma Tourism & Recreation Department, Robert S Kerr Ave, Park Ave, W Main St, Sheridan Ave, Bicentennial Park, Jeramy Jarman Attorney At Law, Paycom Center, and Edward L. Dwyer Downtown are labeled. A red dashed line runs north-south along N Dewey Ave, indicating a proposed transit alignment. Orange rectangular markers are placed at various street intersections along this alignment, likely representing potential station locations. Blue diamond-shaped markers are also visible at several intersections. The map includes labels for local businesses like Glamour Dining & Nightlife and Parlor OKC, as well as educational institutions like Emerson Alternative Education. The overall layout shows a dense urban area with a mix of commercial, public, and recreational spaces.
